

ALPACA PELLETS

RELIANCE ALPACA PELLETS are designed to supplement pasture, especially in periods of low pasture growth and/or quality.

RELIANCE ALPACA PELLETS CONTAIN:

- Selected quality ingredients
- A wide range of vitamins, minerals and trace elements. This includes vitamins A, D and E, as well as calcium and phosphorus
- Highly digestible ingredients, which are high in metabolisable energy compared to forages
- Added vitamin B₁ to help prevent thiamine deficiency
- A mycotoxin binder

Reliance feeds are part of CRT's quality assurance program and are quality tested to meet their stated specifications.

FEEDING RECOMMENDATIONS

RELIANCE ALPACA PELLETS should only be fed in times of low pasture quality to fill feed gaps. Feeding at other times, unless extra weight gain is specifically needed, will cause overweight alpacas and llamas.

WETHERS, NON-PREGNANT FEMALES AND EARLY PREGNANCY:
Up to 0.15kg/head/day

PREGNANT ADULTS (last trimester): 0.15 to 0.5kg/head/day

LACTATING ADULTS: 0.15 to 0.5kg/head/day (up to 1kg/head/day)

Optimum feeding rates depend on pasture availability and quality, and the age and condition of the alpacas or llamas.

Transition onto RELIANCE ALPACA PELLETS by starting with 50g/head/day for a week, before building up to desired daily feeding rate over the next one to two weeks.

Alpacas and llamas should have an adequate amount of forage available at all times when being fed RELIANCE ALPACA PELLETS

Ensure alpacas and llamas have access to clean drinking water at all times.

To discuss optimum feeding levels and diet please call CRT's nutrition team on 0800 278 583.
